Are you Britain's Grimiest Plumber?

See page 84

Are you
Britain's grimeiest plumber?

It's a dirty job.

PHPI has teamed up with Big Wipes to find Britain's Grimeiest Plumber. If you make the grade, you could win a year's supply of Big Wipes 4x4, an off road experience and a cleansing spa day... not to mention T-shirts for the first 20 entries.

Big Wipes is on a mission to get tough on grime and look after plumbers with its 4x4 range of industrial strength wipes. Big Wipes 4x4 contain no fewer than four powerful cleaning agents and four dermatologically tested skin conditioners – making them cleaning wipes even tougher on grime and even kinder to your hands.

To be in with a shout of winning the prize, simply send us a pic of you (or a mate) covered in grime on site, your company name and tell us why you're so grimy.

Partners in grime

Mark & Karl Wray – Wray Brothers

"The grimeiest we ever got was when we had to rip out pipes from a place that made roofing felt. We got absolutely covered in it – they used to put oil through the pipes to keep the bitumen warm. It was horrible."

Tom Hodges – Steven Daniels Home Improvement

"We were unblocking a manhole. We put the rods down. The manhole filled up... our van got caked in it!"

Carl & Harold Walker – Green Doctor

"While we were clearing a chimney we were being watched by a very old man who hadn't spoken for years. Anyway, we got covered in an avalanche of soot and it all came out in front of the old man. Well, his first words for years were "those @$%&!s!"

Mark Daley – Holly Lane Property Care

"I do a lot of work in kitchens and you find a lot of people just don't clean them or look after them properly – there's lots of grease and oil."

This month's Grimeiest Plumber
Ben Carr – AL Carr Plumbing & Heating

"We were clearing the drains and actually had to get our hands down there...that was one I will never forget."
